

Dermal System Support

Developed for patients with hypersensitivities. This product contains a variety of whole food derived nutrients along with tissue extracts and concentrates combined with botanical ingredients. The multi-focused support provided by this product is directed at a number of key organs and glands that have a central role in the allergic process.

These glands and organs include the liver, small intestine, and adrenal glands. Each of these structures has variable levels of dysfunction in the other organ systems. Optimizing function of these individual areas can lead to reduction of immune activation, allergen exposure, and reduction of immune reactive substances.

Dermal support has also been beneficial in managing appropriate healing of the skin following a variety of skin injuries. Topical management of these conditions should be combined with the use of this product to facilitate wound repair.

Canine Dermal Support is very effective and safe to administer to cats.

Suggested uses:

- Skin allergic symptoms
- Dry skin
- General skin disorders
- Immune deficiency
- Dull coat
- Post-surgery
- Scar formation

Nutrition plays a major role in skin health, which is a result of a well-functioning, synchronized effort by tissues and organs in the body. Canine Dermal Support was developed for patients with hypersensitivities. This product contains whole food ingredients to help support and maintain the skin's ability to withstand the effects of environmental exposure to toxins, antigens, and microorganisms.

The multi-focused support provided by this product is directed at a number of key organs and glands that have a central role in the allergic process. The primary focus is on the adrenal glands, liver and small intestine. These areas are known to directly or indirectly influence immune function and skin health.

Your veterinarian may recommend Canine Dermal support for general skin health, chronic ear infections, or chronic anal gland issues. Combined with medication or on its own, Canine Dermal Support can play a role in your pet's overall health plan.

As always, your veterinarian and Standard Process have your pet's well-being in mind. You can rest assured that the addition of nutritional support is part of a well-rounded healthcare plan for your pet.
